The Bracken County Retired Teachers' Association met Thursday, March 21 at Bravo's Cafe in Augusta. Nineteen retired teachers enjoyed each other's company on another snowy day. The highlight of the meeting was honoring the Grandparent essay winners from Taylor Elementary and Augusta Independent schools. All fifth graders in Bracken County were asked to write an essay on "Why my grandparent should be AARP's Grandparent of the Year."

Eli Haskell, the son of Katie Jones, a fifth grader at Taylor Elementary was that school's winner. He wrote about his grandfather, James Hay and was selected as the county winner. Eli was also chosen as the Northern Ky. Retired Teachers' district winner. He competed with the 7 other county winners in the district and will now represent Northern Kentucky in the state competition. His essay can be seen on page 8.

Madison Kelsch was chosen as the 5th grade winner at Augusta Ind. School. Madison is the daughter of Robin and Angie Kelsch and she wrote about her grandfather, Jimmy Long. Her essay will appear in a future issue of The Bracken County News.

Eli and Madison, along with their grandfathers and their 5th grade teachers, Heather Brumley and Brenda Flack, were our guests for lunch. A special appreciation was given to the two teachers. They are truly the ones who keep this competition going and help us to honor grandparents and the special place they occupy in the lives of children.

Sheriff issues Scam Alerts

The Bracken County Sheriff's Office is asking that citizens be aware of a couple of phone scams that are going around. The first, is a scam where someone claiming to be a law enforcement official (US Marshall, FBI, Secret Service) advises the caller that they will have the local Sheriff come out and arrest them for laundering money if they do not send money in to them. The second, is where the caller states that they are calling from a jail in Mexico and advises that your child or grandchild has been arrested with drugs and money is needed to be wired to them for bail money to get them out of jail. If they are asking you for money or for personal information (birth date, social security #, etc) over the phone, do

Staci Jett new meat manager at Lee's IGA in Brooksville

Lee's IGA in Brooksville has a new face behind the meat counter. Staci Jett is no stranger when it comes to processing meat. She has worked in the field of deer processing for the last 10 years. Her experience in deer processing has helped her tremendously in being able to cut meat at Lee's. While it is different when she was cutting up a whole deer carcass, once she gets the large beef pieces turned the correct way, the selection of cuts are primarily the same. She is available Monday - Friday from 8 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. for custom cuts on steaks. When she is doing boneless cuts, she cuts those by hand instead of using the meat saw.

Along with offering custom cuts, she has added some "grab and go" items to the regular selections in the meat case. Last week, she had packaged new items such as meatballs, meatloaf, stuffed peppers, and cheese balls, as well as adding whole fryers to the hot chicken case. Being the mother of two children, Gavin and Sierra, both students at Taylor Elementary, she understands the frustration and stress in a working mothers thoughts when asked the age old question, "what's for dinner mom?" By adding the "grab and go" items, she has seen to it that moms, as well as everyone, can have a healthy homemade choice for dinner instead of prepackaged frozen convenience items and fast food all the time. She intends on adding more items especially around the holidays. Staci has been employed as the meat manager at Lee's IGA for the last two and a half weeks.

The Bracken County Sheriff's Office graduated its second Citizens Police Academy Tuesday night, March 26th. The second class had thirteen graduates who enjoyed ten weeks of instruction covering operational procedures and policies of the Sheriff's Office and criminal justice system. The purpose of the program is to heighten awareness of law enforcement's role in the community and the goal is to increase understanding and communication through hands on and classroom instruction.

Citizen Police Academy graduates enjoyed presentations by the County Attorney, Women's Crisis Center, Circuit Clerk,

Cabinet for Family Services, CASA director, County Coroner and Deputy Ian Kelsch. Graduates also received weekly instruction and heard stories of life experiences from Chief Deputy Bob Scott and Sheriff Howard Niemeier. One of the highlights of the class was the use of the Firearms Training Simulator (FATS) which puts participants in actual situations involving shoot – don't shoot situations. Numerous members of the courthouse, Bracken County School System, Probation & Parole and community also came in and experienced the FATS training. This simulator gives participants an experience of how quick life and death decisions have to be made by law enforcement officials in the field.

Graduates also received training in the following areas over the ten week period: Crime Scene Investigation, Drugs/Narcotic Investigations, Court Procedures, Patrol Techniques & Procedures, DUI presentation, Use of Force, Law Enforcement Ethics, and other miscellaneous topics.

During the graduation ceremony a round table discussion was held to address any changes or additions that need to be made to the curriculum for the class. All the graduates felt that the curriculum was fine and that they all learned something new each night about the capabilities/duties of the Sheriff's Office and also the criminal justice system. All graduates received a plaque for attending the class and enjoyed pizza, cake and drinks. The ceremony was also attended by family members of several of the graduates and several graduates of the first class who came out to observe the graduation.

The Sheriff's Office appreciates all those that instructed, participated and assisted them with their 2nd Citizens Police Academy. For those interested in attending Class #3, it will begin in September, applications can be picked up at the Sheriff's Office and are due in by August 9, 2013.

From "Brooksville Centennial Celebration 1839-1939"

*Sponsored By
The Brooksville and Bracken County Fire Departments*

Preface

The purpose in publishing this book has been to record certain historical facts relating to Brooksville and Bracken County which will prove interesting and instructive to future generations.

It is published in connection with the celebration of the Brooksville Centennial which was held October 5, 6 and 7, 1939. Since Brooksville is the county seat of Bracken County the history of both has been included. Much of this history has been obtained through personal interview and from old records. Though it may not be accurate in all details, the information gleaned by personal interview was given in all sincerity and to the best recollections of those interviewed.

The proceeds to be derived from the sale of this book are to be used toward the purchase of a fire truck which is to be used at the disposal of the Citizens of Bracken County. A substantial donation has been promised by the Fiscal Court provided the county at large can secure additional funds and means of donation, advertising, etc., the sale of this book, and Centennial Celebration, it is to be hoped that a substantial fund will be raised.

History Of Brooksville

Along the pathway of exploration of the Ohio, Bracken County was cut off from Mason County in 1797, five years after Kentucky became a State. Courts were held at Augusta, Oxford and again at Augusta. After forty-two years a permanent location was selected, near the county's highest point at the crossing of a southbound trail (now Highway No. 19) with the Buffalo Trace (now Highway No. 10) a pioneer road following a time-worn path leading from the salt springs at Blue Licks on the Licking to that river's junction with the Ohio River. Early settled by the Woodward family, the junction was called Woodward's Cross Roads. Some of the original buildings are still standing.

This Easter hope we all realized that salvation is ours today because of God's plan.

On this Easter morning, March 31, we had 98 to our sunrise service. Bro. Jackie spoke on our Risen Lord and because He lives, we will also if we accept Him as our Lord & Savior. Donnie Johnson blessed us by singing "Broken and Spilled Out". Darrin Young and Debbie McElfresh sang "It Is Finished". Breakfast followed, prepared by some of our men and it was delicious!

We had 85 to SS and 166 to worship service. We were thankful for our guests and hope you join us again. SS is 10 a.m., worship 10:45 a.m.

Jo Ann Brown played "Were You There" for a special. Her sister, Jane Nelson, played "Christ Arose". Jane also played "Here Comes Peter Cotton-Tail" for all us children!

Our choir presented "It Is Finished" under direction of Darrin Young. Those in the play were: Johnnie Johnson as Jesus and Ronnie & Annette Harrison, Billy and Helen Colemire, and Jessie Johnson. We were glad to have Bonnie Poe and her daughters Cierra Poe and Chasity Shepherd singing in the choir. Chasity did a solo and Brooke Lange played along with her on her flute.

Remember in prayer: each and every name on the prayer list and always each other and our country. Keep in prayer the ones that lost loved ones.

God used Kolton Williams in finding Harold Mains, who has been missing for several days. Mr. Mains is from Northern Ky. and was found on the Williams farm on Saturday. Kolton is the son of Jeff & Lori Williams.

We were glad to have Ruth & Johnny Nickerson with us for Sunrise Service. Ruth got out of UK Hosp. on Friday after being in a car accident last week.

Tues., Apr. 9 - VBS Planning Meeting 7 p.m.

FRIENDSHIP CHURCH by Pam Brooks

Our Good Friday Service was very moving with several out for the service. Sunrise Service was also a great time with our Lord. We all enjoyed a pancake breakfast before our Easter morning services. It was a great time with dear family and friends, but most important, it was time spent celebrating the resurrection of our Lord.

April 7 will be our Fun, Food, and Fellowship Sunday. Following morning worship there will be a Southern Biscuit making class given by Bro. Kevin. Anyone who wants to participate needs to bring a large mixing bowl and self-rising flour. We will be having breakfast for our lunch on that day. Following our meal the women will meet to discuss upcoming events. Afternoon worship will begin at 3 p.m.

Our next Conference will be on April 13 at 10 a.m. Anyone needing a ride let Bro. Kevin know.

On Friday, April 19 will be our movie night. The movie will begin at 7:30 p.m. We will have snacks. The name of the movie will be announced at a later time.

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI

by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

We had our last Lenten service for the year this past Wednesday in the Presbyterian Church. We had over 70 worshippers that came to this service. Afterwards we had a wonderful meal prepared by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church. We had a final offering for the season of $2,360. We continued the tradition of the three digit challenge which was started by Father Dan of St. Augustine Church. People responded with generosity.

We had 90 worshippers Sunday. Joyce Gibson led the worship, Susie Hargett led the singing, and Jill Hargett did the power point.

We lost a faithful member this past week. Edythe Ware went home to be with the Lord. Her funeral service will be April 1 in the Presbyterian Church. Edythe always had a story for me. She loved to go listen to her band and even if she got home at 2 a.m. Sunday morning, she still came to church. Edythe always brought a jug of sweet tea to all of our dinners. The last dinner we had she was not feeling well enough to come but she sent her tea. She always sat in the back row between Bertha Walton and Dorothy Wachter. I certainly will miss her. Edythe would find it humorous that her going away party was held on April Fool's day. She is now dancing with the angels.

My sermon this week was a different approach to the resurrection account. I used as my scripture from Luke the section that tells about the Emmaus story.

APC Sunday School class makes Resurrection Gardens for Easter

The Children's Sunday School class at the Augusta Presbyterian Church created Resurrection Gardens as a visual to the importance of Easter in the lives of Christians. The children created their gardens by laying a small clay pot on its side in a clay saucer. Next, potting soil was mounded over the small clay pot and aquarium gravel was poured in front of the clay pot to represent the burial tomb in which Jesus was laid. A large rock was then placed partially over the "tomb" entrance and grass seed was sown into the potting soil. On Easter Sunday three crosses were placed onto the mound and the children were able to take their gardens home to watch as the grass came up and to hopefully spark more conversations about Jesus and how he died on the cross and rose again for all of our sins.

"If any of you lacks wisdom, you should ask God. . . . But when you ask, you must believe and not doubt, because the one who doubts is like a wave of the sea, blown and tossed by the wind. That person should not expect to receive anything from the Lord. Such a person is double-minded and unstable in all they do."

James 1:5-8

Ambivalence

The Merriam-Webster dictionary defines ambivalence as "simultaneous and contradictory feelings (as attraction and repulsion) toward an object, person, or action." This is an all-too-human experience that has a physical basis in our two-sided brain. Positive emotions are usually processed on the left side of the brain and negative emotions on the right. A child who has just "appropriated" a cookie after strict instructions to stay away from the cookie jar may feel pleasure at the same time he is feeling guilt or fear. All of our significant relationships have some ambivalence. Parents love their children and yet nothing can be quite as exasperating as a child misbehaving. The secret to dealing with ambivalence is to not let it spoil an otherwise good experience. Going to a party should be fun, though it will perhaps also have some anxiety attached if you aren't crazy about parties, but that doesn't have to ruin the experience. Commit yourself to enjoying the event and you probably will, regardless of the hassles involved. Likewise, our relationships can be spoiled by ambivalence if we focus too much on the negative aspects, but if we commit ourselves to loving the other person despite their flaws then the ambivalence is neutralized. Another way to deal with ambivalence is to reflect on our values and to reconcile our feelings based on the higher value.

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES

by Caroline Jefferson

Alleluia! Alleluia! After forty days of the Lenten Season, once again we can sing, and even shout, this responsorial which means "praise God"! The Mass of the Resurrection celebrated on Easter Sunday is a most joyful prayer of praise and thanksgiving filling us with renewed hope in the promises that the Risen Christ brings! We pray that, if only for a few brief seconds, everyone felt this surge of joy and new life! Our Risen Savior must have been very pleased with the attendance of all the Sunrise and Church services of Easter Sunday and He would be filled with overwhelming joy if all Sunday services were as well attended! One or two hours a week in church makes life so much easier because Jesus wants to lighten our load by sharing, and usually carrying our burdens!

This Sunday, April 7, we will celebrate Divine Mercy Sunday concluding the Octave of Easter. In the Old and New Testaments, important feasts were celebrated for eight days, known as an octave. In the Catholic Church, Easter officially is celebrated for a full eight days beginning with Easter Sunday morning and ending on the evening of Divine Mercy Sunday. Our Lord promises many graces to those who receive the Sacraments of Reconciliation and Eucharist on this day. Why not complete Easter by returning to Church this Sunday?

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I read with sadness Ms. Hargett's letter regarding the destruction of rock walls on Old 19. We recently built a home on Old 19 and we, too, love these beautiful old walls. It hurt us to hear that they were being destroyed. Perhaps those involved did not understand the historical significance of these walls.

We hope these letters will discourage anyone from destroying the beautiful walls in the future and allow them to remain standing.

Thank you,
Cora Morris

MCTC offering two new programs this Fall

Maysville Community and Technical College (MCTC) was recently approved by the Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS) Board of Regents to implement two new degree programs, Associate in Applied Science in Criminal Justice and Associate in Applied Science in Clinical Laboratory Technician, starting in the fall 2013 semester, which begins Monday, August 19.

"We are excited to be able to offer these two new areas of study," said MCTC President Dr. Ed Story. "The college is sensitive to the needs of area employers and students. We feel that these new programs will give students marketable skills that local employers are searching for."

The Associate of Applied Science Criminal Justice includes tracks in Criminal Justice, Law Enforcement, Corrections, Security and Loss Prevention and certificates in Computer Forensics, Criminal Justice Core, Corrections, Law Enforcement, and Security and Loss Prevention. The program prepares students for entry into the field of police work and related occupations. The curriculum gives the student theory, principles, and techniques employed by criminal justice agencies and police units. The study of the law as it relates to criminal justice agencies, human behavior, government and communications along with specialized course work comprise the curriculum.

Graduates from the AAS in Criminal Justice program may seek job opportunities on the federal, state, county and municipal levels. With experience, graduates could move into administrative or supervisory positions in corrections, security and/or law enforcement. Criminal justice careers in policing, corrections, and private security are expected to increase between 12 and 14 percent, with wages averaging up to $18.36 per hour in 2010, according to the Kentucky Occupational Outlook to 2018.

The AAS in Clinical Laboratory Technician program provides students with the opportunity to acquire the necessary skills to work under the supervision of a registered clinical scientist or pathologist in a clinical laboratory, hospital, or other health agency. Students learn to collect specimens from the patient and perform laboratory tests in all areas of the clinical laboratory to include immunohematology, clinical chemistry, hematology, microbiology, serology and urinalysis. Upon completion of the program, the graduate is eligible for the national certification examination as

The property shall be sold to the highest and best bidder(s) and said purchaser shall be required to pay cash or the sum of ten percent (10%) of the bid price in cash deposit with the balance of the purchase price to be due and payable in cash or certified funds, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. Bracken County High School graduate Allison Marie Tobis of Brooksville has accepted a Regents Scholarship at Eastern Kentucky University. Hundreds of additional incoming freshmen and transfer students have accepted merit-based scholarships to attend ECU.

“These students have found programs here at ECU that meet their needs academically, therefore Eastern is doing all it can to help them achieve their dreams financially through our merit-based scholarship program,” said Brett Morris, director of admissions at the university. “The process is much easier now because students are granted these scholarships automatically if they qualify. There’s no need for a separate application.”

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! “Another picturesque Monday with Mother Nature letting us know in a beautiful way that she is still in control! We need to enjoy the beauty while at the same time being very cautious when on the highways. This is Kentucky weather so this snow will not last as long as it would in January or February – just enjoy the scenery, drive carefully and think SPRING!” That was the beginning of last week’s article and if you will recall, last Monday, March 25 was very snowy, and Ms. Bug had a ‘bug’ and was not feeling well. After a doctor’s visit, the article was typed at home, but somehow was ‘misplaced’ on the computer. The phone rang after an hour’s search for the article and a lady from a company said she needed to talk with us, but apologized for putting us on hold for a minute. Ms. Bug assured her that it was a welcome break from searching for a missing document. This representative said she would call back as soon as her initial call was completed to help with the search and she did! (Call back that is, we never did find the article.) Anyway, after realizing that the article was gone, another one was retyped, sent on its way and Ms. Bug took a nap! It wasn’t until Wednesday when we picked up the recycling from The Bracken County News Office that we realized the second article did not make it! We are not sure why that article was not destined for printing, but it sure was an interesting turn of events, especially for a busy representative from a faraway city to take the time to try to help her fellowman! All seems to be well this week and we hope that everyone had a most blessed Easter Sunday and that perhaps our mis-adventure gives assurance that the Risen Christ is with us and will remain with us until the end of time!

Today is April Fool’s Day and since we had our prank last week, we can enjoy watching others as they get ‘April Fooled’, but we are sure our Litter Patrol Groups will not be having much fun collecting the trash that someone has chosen to throw out onto the roadways. These workers perform a much needed community service, and yes, they do get paid, but the money goes to the treasury of the respective non-profit organizations for useful projects. As motorists, it is our collective responsibility to drive safely and carefully at all times, but especially when these groups are cleaning up the litter. April 25 is the final date for the assigned miles to be completed, so heads up during April! Also, with the weather trying to become more spring-like, we spoke with Mason County Landfill about roll-off dumpsters and they will have some tentatively available for April 12.

Last year at this time we were making preparations to bring our son Larry home after a seven week hospitalization. While he did get home on April 2, he passed away early on the morning of April 5. As we celebrated the Resurrection of Jesus this past Sunday, we take comfort in knowing that those who have gone before us are rejoicing with Christ Himself, bringing us peace and hope! We pray that you receive many blessings this Easter Season and just as the youngsters enjoyed hunting for eggs on Sunday, you will enjoy hunting for ways to increase your RECYCLING, REUSING and REDUCING to keep God’s earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seein’ you – Bin & Bug.

EVERYBODY WINS WHEN WE RECYCLE!

3 Easy Ways to Prepare for Spring Storms

KU Plans Year-Round for Mother Nature’s Worst, Urge Customers to Be Ready, Too

Now that we are into spring, storms are a good likelihood and Kentucky Utilities Company and Louisville Gas and Electric Company provide simple ways for customers to plan for severe weather. KU takes steps year-round to prepare for the effects of inclement weather and offer customers the following tips and suggestions to plan ahead and also prepare, so they can be safe during storm events:

1. Plan ahead: Visit www.ready.gov to make a plan and learn how to build an emergency supply kit, which should include items such as prescription medicines, weather radio, important phone numbers, a first aid kit, flashlights and extra batteries, to name a few.

Before severe weather strikes, KU prepares by monitoring weather conditions, placing field crews and contact centers on alert and readying operating equipment and material. Throughout the year, KU makes infrastructure investments and performs regular system maintenance such as tree trimming and hazardous tree removals to enhance system reliability.

2. Stay informed: During outage situations, system and restoration updates are provided through LG&E and KU’s automated phone system, online outage map and outage map app. At the beginning of a widespread restoration event, the companies must first assess damage to the electric system before repairs can be prioritized.

Keeping customers informed of the companies’ progress is an essential part of LG&E and KU’s emergency response plan. In times of widespread power outages, general restoration information and safety tips are provided on LG&E and KU’s Facebook page, Twitter feed and official company blog.

3. Be safe: Always assume any downed wire is an energized power line. Stay away and report it immediately. KU customers should call 1-800-981-0600. Visit www.lge-ku.com/storm for important safety information concerning portable generators, food storage and electric service.

In responding to major power outages across the utilities’ service territory, a priority is given to critical-care organizations, such as hospitals, fire and police stations and nursing homes. At the same time, KU crews focus on restoring service to utility infrastructure like water and sewer pumping stations as well as schools and airports.

KU must repair any critical infrastructure that might be damaged from the storm, like the transmission lines and substations that carry electricity into neighborhoods and commercial areas, before power can be restored to those locations.

The goal then is to fix a problem that will restore power to large groups of customers simultaneously, so hundreds or even thousands of customers come back online with one repair job. Crews then move on to where they can get neighborhoods restored and continue until they address outages that affect individual streets and homes.

Customers’ experiencing a power outage should report it to the company by either using the online outage reporting system or by calling KU at 1-800-981-0600.

While every storm is unique and presents distinct challenges to utility crews, KU remains committed to restoring power safely and as quickly as possible and keeping customers informed every step of the way.

Applications now available for PrimaryPlus scholarship

PrimaryPlus is happy to announce the availability of applications for its annual Carolyn Caseman Evans Memorial Scholarship program. The program started over ten years ago, providing over $14,000 in funds thus far to graduating seniors. In 2010, the scholarship was named in honor and memory of one of PrimaryPlus’ great nurses, Mrs. Carolyn Caseman Evans, who strongly believed in the community she served and was passionate about quality healthcare—all which are part of PrimaryPlus’ founding mission. The PrimaryPlus Scholarship provides a $500 non-renewable scholarship to a class of 2013 graduate in Lewis, Fleming, Mason, Greenup and Bracken Counties.

Applicants will be required to submit a brief biography, transcripts of their high school grades/test scores, financial need information and provide letters of recommendation. Seniors applying must also submit a 500 to 1,000 word essay outlining their professional goals in the medical field, the future contributions they would like to make in their community and how this scholarship would help them attain those goals. The deadline for application submission is Friday, May 3rd, 2013. The recipient(s) of the 2013 PrimaryPlus Scholarship will be announced at the Senior Awards Ceremony at each school. Last year’s winners were the very deserving Rebecca Weiss of Augusta Independent Schools; Sarah Stout of Lewis County High School; Hannah Politt of Fleming County High School; and Morgan Swolsky of St. Patrick’s High School.

The Best Grandpa

My grandpa is my best buddy. His name is James Hay. I think he should win the AARP Grandparent of the Year. He is friendly, fun, and amazing. He is my hero, because he has let my mom and I live with him my whole life. Because of this, he is like my dad. I’d like to share with you why he should win this award.

One of the things I love about my grandpa is that he is super friendly. He will talk to strangers and even people he might not like. One time, my grandpa and I were at a festival. My grandpa sat down and an older man sat next to him. Grandpa found out he was a veteran just by sitting and talking with him. This is just one of the many times that my grandpa was friendly.

My grandpa is loads of fun. He and I love to play video games. He will also watch Ultimate Fighting Champion with me and he doesn’t even like it much either. He watches it because I like it. In the summer, we ride our mini bikes and go to flea markets. Sometimes, though, we have the most fun just hanging out on the couch. It doesn’t matter what we do, it’s being together that is fun.

My grandpa is the most amazing person I know. He always has time for us to spend together. He works a lot and has very long days. He is usually tired from work, but he still takes the time to play with me. That tells me how important I am to him. He has always been there to support and take care of my mom and me. I don’t know where we would be without him. I am very thankful to have him for a grandpa.

As you can see, I think my grandpa is perfect. He is just a wonderful person to know. He would be blown away to win this prestigious award. I hope he wins the AARP Grandparent of the Year award for all he has done for my mom and me. Even if he doesn’t win, he wins in my book.

Keeping your skin beautiful and healthy

We all want beautiful and healthy skin, but some of us tend to equate beautiful, vibrant skin with tanned skin. Tanning is actually your body’s reaction to skin damage from ultraviolet rays.

Both the sun and tanning equipment release two types of ultraviolet rays. UVB rays reach the top of the skin and are the likely cause of many types of sunburn. UVA rays penetrate deeper into the skin. When your body is unprotected against UVA rays, it releases melanin, a pigment that darkens the skin.

Many people have the misconception that indoor tanning equipment is safer than sunbathing, but tanning beds use mainly UVA rays at a higher concentration than sunlight, so they can cause just as much, if not more, damage to your skin. In addition, indoor tanning facilities are open most days of the year, making them more accessible than sunlight.

Indoor tanning equipment has been linked to two types of skin cancers: melanoma, the deadliest form, and squamous cell carcinoma, as well as eye cancer. A 2009 study conducted by the International Agency for Research on Cancer, found people’s risk of developing melanoma increases by 75 percent if they begin visiting tanning beds before the age of 35. The American Cancer Society reported that melanoma is one of the most common types of cancers in those younger than 30 years old, especially women.

Exposure to UV rays from sunlight and tanning equipment also can cause premature aging, immune system suppression, eye damage and allergic reaction.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention lists the following tips to help you protect yourself from UV exposure:

- Wear sunscreen with a sun protective factor (SPF) of at least 15 and UVA and UVB protection.
- Stay in the shade, especially during the middle of the day.
- Cover as much skin as possible with clothing.
- Wear a hat with a wide brim to protect your face, ears, neck and head.
- Wear sunglasses with as close to 100 percent protection from UVA and UVB rays as possible.
- Avoid indoor tanning.

For more information on protecting yourself from UV damage, contact Bracken County office of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Free fliers guide military, veterans to student aid sources

A four-page flier available free from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) provides student financial aid information for members of the Armed Forces and veterans. A similar flier is geared toward the spouses and dependents of service members and veterans.

Both fliers provide capsule descriptions of state and federal financial aid programs geared toward service members, veterans and their spouses and dependents. Each also includes a section that lists additional resources from which those target groups can get help or information.

The fliers were created as part of KHEAA's participation in First Lady Jane Beshear's initiative to help military spouses with resources for continuing their education.

To order copies of the fliers, email publications@kheaa.com or use the order form on www.kheaa.com.

Frankfort Focus

A Legislative Perspective on the Kentucky
General Assembly
State Rep. Mike Denham

It took nearly a year of study, months of debate and several long nights to finalize, but the General Assembly achieved its biggest goal this legislative session when it enacted far-reaching reforms of Kentucky's public retirement systems early last week.

For those who may not follow this situation closely, most states face long-term liabilities in their public pension systems that measure in the hundreds of billions of dollars. If nothing is done, this has the potential to cripple spending on every service these governments provide just a few years from now.

From a historical perspective, this is a relatively new problem. Kentucky's pension systems have been affordable for much of their history, and as recently a decade ago, they had more than enough money to meet the benefits that had been promised. For a variety of reasons – most of them tied to the country's tough economy – that promise was looking harder to keep.

Our work last week, however, will change that, ensuring that what is owed will be paid. Some hailed this legislation as a national model, because it establishes a framework to do away with the liability while taking steps to make sure that it is far less likely to happen again. Kentucky is a leader that can now show other states how to put their public retirement systems on a stronger foundation. This protects the inviolable contract of our current state and local government employees.

On the financial side, the additional money will come from federal tax changes affecting our state tax code; several updates recommended by the Kentucky Dept. of Revenue that mainly center on large businesses and delinquent taxpayers; and slightly reducing the personal income tax credit.

To offset some of that revenue, the General Assembly has authorized a tax cut that will save new-car buyers potentially hundreds of dollars if they have a trade-in. Prior to this change, those buying a new car had to pay sales tax on its full value, no matter how much they actually paid when the trade-in was included. Now, when this is put in place, they will only pay the sales tax on what they spend, a move that should give a boost to our auto industry. We saw that happen several years ago, when the state offered this deal as a temporary incentive program.

Overall, this new law is expected to save the state more than $10 billion over the next 20 years, and it should provide the stability bonding companies look for when they set the state's borrowing costs. The General Assembly also made it possible to fund future cost-of-living allowances, or COLAs, if the money is available.

I'm proud that this legislation incorporates ideas from both the House and Senate, while Governor Beshear deserves considerable credit for his role in helping both sides reach a compromise.

That level of bipartisanship was evident in other bills also sent to the governor's desk early last week.

One that gathered a lot of attention sets the stage for farmers to grow industrial hemp, if the federal government ever lifts its ban or grants Kentucky a waiver. I was proud to sponsor legislation more than a decade ago that first put emphasis on this crop and studying its potential to make everything from biofuels to clothing.

Another bill making it through the General Assembly last week should prove to be more helpful for those deployed overseas. This legislation as originally proposed by the Secretary of State would have allowed electronic voting by our soldiers, but the final version scales that back. Absentee ballots can now be emailed to our servicemen and women, but the completed ballot must continue to be mailed. If a more secure system is found to be effective, the hope is that one day soon our military personnel will be able to vote electronically and not worry that their vote is not counted.

For our healthcare providers, House Bill 5 would treat our Medicaid managed care organizations more like private insurance companies when it comes to getting payment in a more timely manner. This will hopefully ease our ongoing transition to managed care for this multi-billion dollar program.

While it may have been a "short" legislative session because it is an odd-numbered year, the General Assembly was able to get a substantial amount of work done during these 30 days. In addition to the bills mentioned, other new laws include needed tweaks to last year's "pill mill" legislation, making it possible to raise the high school dropout age to 18 and giving many of our public universities the opportunity to build projects totaling more than $360 million.

After a brief time off, the House and Senate will return to their normal interim meeting schedule later this spring, giving us the opportunity to see how effective these new laws are and what may need to be addressed when the General Assembly returns for its next legislative session in January.

I want to thank everyone who contacted me during the last few months to let me know their views. No matter the time of year, though, I can always be reached by writing to Room 329G, Capitol Annex, 702 Capitol Avenue, Frankfort, KY 40601.

You can also leave a message for me or for any legislator at 800-372-7181. For those with a hearing impairment, the number is 800-896-0305.

I hope to hear from you soon.

Bracken County Sheriff's office issues newest Scam Alerts

not disclose any information as these are normally scam artists trying to get your money and information.

The Sheriff has also received an email asking him to participate in a $28.5 million business proposition. All he needed to do was to deposit the money into his bank account from an off shore bank in Europe. They would then take 75% of this money out of the account and leave 25% in the account for him for allowing them to make this transaction. Do not fall for this as you will be left with a huge bill to the bank for fraudulent deposits made by this company.

There is a scam going around from Nova Capital Financial Services where they send you a certified check in your name with the business name of Gilead Sciences, Inc. for $4,685.00 (dollar amount may be different on some checks) which asks you to pay a processing fee to the company. The processing fee for this transaction was $3,850.00 leaving you with $835.00 for this transaction. Anytime it asks you to pay a fee to get a little money it is a scam.

The Sheriff's Office also received information about an internet email scam where the FBI notifies you that they will seize your computer if you do not send them $400.00. If there are links in this email do not open them because they will put viruses on your computer and possibly get your personal information off of the computer. The FBI does not operate this way, if they have something on you they will come knocking on your door to find you, and seize your computer in person.

This is the time of year for what is commonly referred to as gypsy scams, where individuals will come around wanting to do work for you at your residence. This can be a wide variety of jobs: i.e. roof repairs, vinyl siding, drive way repairs, painting jobs, landscaping, etc. If you need work done ask them for local references of people that they have done work for and check these references. Also have them give you a written quote for the work to be completed so that there can be no dispute about who is doing what on the job. Contact individuals that you know that do this kind of work and get a second quote for comparison. Do not give them any money up front, most reputable businesses will be able to cover the cost until the job is complete or pay them as they complete the work that you have agreed to.

The main thing to remember is this, if it looks too good to be true it usually is. If they are asking you to send money to them or they are requesting any personal information from you, BEWARE as these are scam artists who are trying to take advantage of you. One of the biggest targets for these scams are our senior citizens because they feel that they are vulnerable and will fall for these tactics. Be vigilant and cautious when acting on information received from these individuals.

There are several variations of these scams that occur. Do not take advantage of the quick cash promise as it will come back to burn you. Anytime someone offers to give you money and for you to send money back, or if they ask you to send them money to win a big prize, BEWARE. These are all scams to get your money and for you to set yourself up to be a victim.

These scam artist knows that this is tax time and citizens are getting money back from taxes and have some money to possibly spend. These scams always pick up this time of year. If you should receive something and you are not sure what to do ask a friend or call the Sheriff's Office for assistance.

If you have any questions or need additional information on a possible scam contact the Sheriff's Office at 606-735-3233.

The Annual Woodmen of the World Easter Egg Hunt was on the grounds of the Moore and Parker Funeral Home in Brooksville on Saturday, March 23rd. This year's participants took time to pose for a group shot with some of the items given away after the egg hunt.

Despite the recent economic turbulence our country has experienced, Woodmen of the World remains in a strong financial position, thanks to their conservative investment philosophy and the continued support from their member customers. Woodmen of the World's assets have increased by almost 25% over the past 5 years. They have once again been rated an A+ (Superior) for their financial strength and operating performance for 2012.

Adams, husband and wife, dated December 24, 2008, filed April 21, 2009, recorded in Deed Book 189, Page 134, County Clerk's Office, Bracken County, Kentucky.

The property shall be sold to the highest and best bidder(s) and said purchaser shall be required to pay cash or the sum of ten percent (10%) of the bid price in cash deposit with the balance of the purchase price to be due and payable in cash or certified funds, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety, bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the date which is thirty (30) days following the date of sale, until paid, and payable to the Master Commissioner.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2013 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

Kentucky Fish & Wildlife
Commission modifies furbearer season, proposes new fishing regulations

The Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission modified furbearer seasons and restricted the sale, release and possession of Asian carp at its quarterly meeting March 8.

The commission recommends all hunting, fishing and boating regulations for approval by the General Assembly and approves all expenditures by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. All recommendations must be approved by legislators before they become law.

In wildlife-related business, the commission proposed allowing the hunting of coyotes at night. This season is contingent upon the completion of the legislative process for House Bill 60. If this bill becomes law, it will take effect 90 days after the last day of the current legislative session.

If this hunting season secures final approval, coyote hunters could use lights or night-vision equipment from Feb. 1 through May 31. From June 1 through Jan. 31, coyote hunters could not use lights or night-vision equipment. Lights or night vision equipment could not be connected to or cast from any mechanized vehicle. No weapon other than a shotgun could be used for hunting coyotes at night and shots shells could not contain a single projectile.

When using an air rifle to take furbearers, hunters must use a .22-caliber minimum.

In fisheries-related business, the commission recommended several new fishing regulations to take effect March 1, 2014.

tive slot limit on largemouth bass on Smokey Valley Lake in Carter Caves State Resort Park in Carter County. There will be a daily creel limit of six fish; only one of the harvested bass could be longer than 15 inches.

- Cast nets could be used to gather bait in the tributaries of the Cumberland River from Wolf Creek Dam downstream to the Tennessee line, with the exception of Hatchery Creek. All trout caught in cast nets must be immediately released.

- People could not buy, sell, possess, import or release live the Asian carp species of bighead, black or silver carp.

- James D. Beville Park Lake in Grayson County and Jacobson Park Lake in Fayette County are now enrolled in the Fishing in Neighborhoods (FINs) program.

In boating-related business, the commission proposed extending the minimum length of pontoon boats on Guist Creek Lake in Shelby County from 22 feet to 24 feet.

The next Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission meeting will be held at 8:30 a.m. (Eastern time), Friday, June 7. Meetings are held at Kentucky Fish and Wildlife headquarters, located at 1 Sportsman's Lane off U.S. 60 in Frankfort.

Persons interested in adressing the commission must notify the commissioner's office of Kentucky Fish and Wildlife in writing at least 30 days in advance to be considered for placement on the meeting agenda. People who are hearing-impaired and plan to attend the meeting should contact Kentucky Fish and Wildlife at least 10 days in advance and the agency will provide an interpreter. To request to address the commission, write to Kentucky Fish and Wildlife, Commissioner Dr. Jon Gassett, 1 Sportsman's Lane, Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601.

Will Catlanta be Big Double for pied piper Pitino?; WKU move to C-USA is major

Observations from the notebook.

Louisville’s march through Rupp Arena, Indianapolis and on to Catlanta has turned Big Blue Nation and Hoosiers into the loudest silent majority since ESPN shut down Dick Vitale.

Who’s going to stop the Cards? If Rick Pitino’s team plays the next (possible) 80 minutes the way it played the last 80, and a Kevin Ware battle cry carries on, then Michigan nor Syracuse is going to flag down this flight.

Two under-card dramas will play out at this Final Four.

√ The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame Committee will announce its picks for induction. Five coaches are among the 12 candidates - Tom Heinsohn, Sylvia Hatchell, Jerry Tarkanian, Guy Lewis and Rick Pitino.

How natural would it be for pied piper Pitino - a national championship and Hall of Fame induction in same week? For what he’s accomplished, including a team in this and last year’s Final Four, Da Coach should be odds-on for election.

√ The other drama could be - will the media herd take the Naismith committee to account for its nominees list for the Bob Cousy, best guard Award winner Monday evening. How come two of five finalists will play in the Final Four and neither is named Russ Smith or Peyton Siva?

Among the last five, Michael-Carter Williams of Syracuse and Trey Burke of Michigan, both are freshmen.

‘SUDDENLY’ DEPT.

√ In a flash, Louisville’s Kevin Ware lay sprawled on the sideline. Right leg snapped in two places, his life changed in more ways than that. Some for the better.

Just turned 20, in a jiffy, Ware saw how suddenly a ball stops bouncing ... how vital good friends are ... how inconvenient simple things will become on crutches, and how crucial it is to get to class. All of them.

√ Brittney Griner’s college basketball days ended. Suddenly Baylor’s 6-8 star faces adjusting her attitude to a rough and tough workplace, WNBA.

√ Ryan Harrow decided he needed to be closer to home, Georgia State. And, John Calipari has an openscholarship. First option? Andrew Wiggins; Best (PR) option? Kentucky Mr. Basketball Dominique

Hawkins.

Harrow’s decision is not sudden. It came, I believe, after conversation with coach that included in some form: “Ryan, the reality is, there are three reasons why your playing time next season might be zero. Two are named Harrison, the other is I need your scholarship. Now, lets make a plausible heart-rending story for the media that saves face for both of us.”

KENTUCKY LADY CATS

A 30-win season is normally reason enough to celebrate, feel good about, and Matthew Mitchell’s Lady Cats will at the post season banquet instead of a party at the Final Four.

For now, this week, a 30-point shelling from UConn has left a hard-to-swallow lump stuck in Kentucky’s craw. The Lady Cats (30-5) join in on the chorus of The Many gone to the sidelines bitterly (with Baylor), “Get ‘em next season!”

CHEERS & JEERS

CHEERS. Landmarks for Louisville. The Lady Cardinals upstaged their Final Four-bound brethren Sunday with a stunning win over odds-on favorite Baylor. Sixteen three and a picket fence around Brittney Griner was enough.

CHEERS. Kevin Ware’s injury could have wilted the Cards in shock having witnessed the ugly injury. They could have surrendered to emotional drain, but did the opposite. Their’s became a nationally televised show of maturity and character. A reward for fans who could be immensely proud of a veteran team.

CHEERS. Too, the Cardinals’ show of unity and collective emotion was in an memorable way, college sports at its best.

JEERS. With words “other opportunities” on his lips, Bellarmine basketball coach Scott Davenport shopped himself last week to Ball State. Maybe Davenport is only looking for Some love from his employer.

With recruits who committed to him and his commitment to them, I hope Davenport ego hasn’t swollen over his better judgement to examine a model set by Shaka Smart and Brad Stevens.

CHEERS. I like to believe VCU’s coach and Butler’s did not say ‘no’ to UCLA last week as much as said Yes! to commitment to something besides money ... their programs at Virginia Commonwealth and Butler respectively.

JEERS. Steve Alford cleared that up. Former darling of Indiana basketball and man of such principle and piety he objected to Bob Knight’s colorful language, became just another ball coach last week.

Moved his lips and lied. Saying he loved New Mexico and agreed to a 10-year contract, days later Alford job jumped to UCLA. Some principle.

CHEERS. Western Kentucky’s move to Conference-USA. Only downside - should’ve happened sooner. Incalculable, the revenue loss to WKU from three decades in the Sun Belt. Tepid fan support, lack of “we play on teevee” recruiting pitch to athletes, NCAA Tournament at-large bid option, football bowl game possibles and television money. In C-USA WKU gets a $1.7 million piece of the (CBS/Fox) pie annually.

Rivalry possibles for Hilltopper fans look delicious Along with Middle Tennessee add Marshall, Southern Miss and Old Dominion, and factor in trips to Boca Raton (Florida Atlantic) and Miami (Florida International).

Next? WKU must raise $2 million for C-USA entry fee. Maybe the first call ought go to Bob Petrino.

COACHES CAROUSEL

√ Tubby Smith to Texas Tech? Bad match. At Kentucky Tubby gave Big Blue Nation winning and ethical basketball success for 10 years, including a national title. Then he gave Minnesota basketball new energy and new hope. Tubby Smith was let go at both places for one overriding reason, he would not or could not hire a recruiter.

√ Minnesota was said to have dumped Tubby in hopes of a new man able to recruit several high school stars in the state. Yet, top candidate is said the be Minnesota alum Flip Saunders, best known as an NBA coaching re-tread.

√ Florida Gulf Coast coach Andy Enfield was flirting with USC last week. His contract at FGC pays just $157,000 a year. USC would pay him $2 million, according to the Los Angeles Daily News.

√ Parallel perfect: Duke assistant Chris Collins hired to head coach at Northwestern mirrors Mark Stoops’ move to Kentucky football from Florida State.

√ A friend asked, “what would Bob Knight say about his protegee’ Steve Alford about-face on New Mexico?”

Answer: Bob Knight we know might use a twist on Jerry Tarkanian-spin and say “just blame it on Kentucky.”

And so it goes.

*Judge Bush distributed a Capital Equipment Replacement for the Magistrates to review.

*Judge Bush advised the court that Health Care Reform is having an effect on our Group Health Insurance Plan. This plan needs to renew each year on July 1. Therefore the renewal for our current policy will renew May 1 and expire on June 30. This policy will renew once again on July 1, 2013. The Group health will then be an annual Group Policy to renew each year on July 1, with open enrollment the month of June each year.

*Judge Bush advised that Robertson County 911 has been having some issues. Bracken County has been assisting them temporarily while Robertson Co Fiscal Court makes decisions.

*Magistrate David Hughes advised that a citizen informed him that cell phone calls were not going to the Bracken County 911 Center. Tony Mains, Supervisor of Bracken County Dispatch 911 Center, was on hand to explain, advising that cell phones will go through the nearest tower to Ohio, or State Police dispatch/911. Our dispatchers get 911 calls from Ohio, they stay on the line and transfer calls to the correct 911 center and advised that dispatcher at that location that they have a 911 emergency call on the line for them. The other 911 facilities do the same for Bracken County Dispatch/911 calls as well.

*Judge Bush advised that Kentucky State Treasurer Department will be set up at the courthouse on 4/26/2013 from 10:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. trying to locate individuals on a list of unclaimed property/funds. They are looking for 10-12 people to assist that day. Any magistrates wanting to volunteer please notify his office.

*Ky Department of Transportation will have a public hearing regarding two plans for redesign and construction of KY 1159 on February 28, 2013 5 p.m.-7 p.m. at the Bracken Co High School.

*Pat Taylor addressed the court regarding the plans for KY 1159. He states that Plan #1 tapers out the road and makes it more straight. Plan #2 cuts into areas where there will be access roads to old 1159 and the county will be responsible for maintaining all those access roads. School buses may have issues picking up children on the access roads.

Discussion was held. In Plan #2: The county will inherit 2.2 additional miles of county maintained roadway. Plan #1 there is a very minimal amount of county road taken over.

Pat Taylor advised that Plan #2 goes through the center of his pasture and places his barn on the other side of the state highway from his house with no pasture. He is not in favor of plan #3 and asked all magistrates to attend the public hearing, as the magistrates will be asked to vote to recommend one of the two plans.

*The architect from SCB will be coming to meet with Judge Bush today. They will be reviewing a package for the costs and plans for the courthouse renovations. Judge Bush would like to set up a special meeting of the Fiscal Court to review the package along with the costs. There are no costs involved at this point. It is designs only.

*Bracken Co SheriffNie-meier will have a town hall meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in the courtroom of the Bracken County Courthouse.

*Clark Hennessey advised that there will be a meeting regarding the Augusta post office at the Clooney Center in Augusta tonight at 6:30 p.m.

Upon motion of John Corlis, seconded by Doug Smith, that the February 27, 2013 meeting of the Bracken County Fiscal Court be adjourned. Vote being unanimous.
